

ELEWACJA WSCHODNIA

The diagram illustrates the architectural layout of a building across four floors. The top floor features a large room labeled 'POZA ZAKRESEM OPRACOWANIA' (Outside the scope of the drawing). Below, the floors are detailed as follows:

- Floor 1: A central room contains two boxes labeled 'E160'. To its left is a room with a height of 'stropian 17 cm' and a mineral wool thickness of 'welia mineralna 17 cm'. To its right is a room with a height of 'stropian 15 cm' and a mineral wool thickness of 'welia mineralna 15 cm'. Further right is another room with a height of 'stropian 15 cm' and a mineral wool thickness of 'welia mineralna 15 cm'. A single 'E160' box is located on the far right.
- Floor 2: This floor has four identical rooms, each with a height of 'stropian 15 cm' and a mineral wool thickness of 'welia mineralna 15 cm'. Each room contains one 'E160' box.
- Floor 3: This floor has four identical rooms, each with a height of 'stropian 15 cm' and a mineral wool thickness of 'welia mineralna 15 cm'. Each room contains one 'E160' box.
- Floor 4: This floor has four identical rooms, each with a height of 'stropian 15 cm' and a mineral wool thickness of 'welia mineralna 15 cm'. Each room contains one 'E160' box.
